1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bemrose.

Bemrose disclose a fully functional website for purchasing imprinted promotional items. Customers are enabled in "all aspects of an order on-line" "from product and price searches through to order placement and artwork approval." Full online ordering is available to over 200 promotional products. Access is provided to many products via access to the customer research specialists. The website's user friendly design provides easy instructions and options such as on line search of products (product website), and customer service (front office) The instant claims are anticipated by Bemrose.

The article to Branders.com is cited for its disclosure of a fully functional website for ordering promotional items. A date could not be found as to the date which the site was functioning. However, applicant is advised that this reference represents at least the state of the
